Hoyer and Castaldi Win The Questions Top Vote in Greenbelt

by Mary Lou Williamson

If there was any surprise in the election results here Tuesday, it was that there were no surprises. All of the incumpents were easily re-elected. All of the county's $111 million in bond issues for public buildings and roads were approved. Even the vote against calling a state constitutional convention was a vote of satisfaction with the status quo.

U.S. Representative Steny H. publicans 73.4 percent to 26.6. Hoyer (5th District) was again Governor William Donald the top vote getter here, with Prince Georges County Council-man Richard J. Castaldi (4th District), Greenbelt's native son, close behind. Forty-eight per-cent of those registered voted in the general election both in Greenbelt and across the county. County Races Castaldi captured the Greenbelt vote by a margin of 4 to 1, but took the district by only 2 to 1. He had suffered a bruising primary battle. County Executive Parris Glendening won reelection with 79.4 percent of the vote across the county, a few percentage points above his Greenbelt returns. In the closest race, Greenbelt helped State's Attorney Alex Williams hold off his opponent Arthur A. "Bud" Marshall by 62.1 percent here. Williams won the county by 59.6 percent.

State House

In the state house races Senator Leo Green had no trouble fending off Nick Palarino who was considered the Republicans' best Senate race challenger in the county. Palarino polled slightly better in Greenbelt than in the district. Greenbelt had supported Green's opponent in a close primary race.

The three Democratic incuments for the House of Delegates garnered votes pretty evenly among themselves with Mary Conroy a little ahead and Charles "Buzz" Ryan a little behind Joan B. Pitkin. The Republican challengers were also evenly matched, but with Robert S. Sanders slighty ahead of James W. Thompson and Roger D. Chamberlain. The three Democrats outpolled the three Re-

Metrobus Runs Saturday Schedule on Veterans Day

For the Veterans Day holiday, Monday, November 12, Metrorail will operate from 5:30 a.m. to midnight. Metrobus will operate on a Saturday schedule with supplemental service with non-peak fares in effect all day. Parking at all transit authorityoperated lots will be free. Bicyclists with bike-on-rail permits will be allowed to transport their bicycles on Metrorail.

Other public transit schedules for the Veterans Day Holiday, Monday, November 12 include:

Maryland Commuter Rail, Modified weekday schedule; "The Bus" — PG County, Weekday schedule; Laurel Connect-A-Ride, Weekday schedule.

For information about transit schedules, call Metro at 202-637-7000.

The first two state-wide questions on Tuesday's ballot were approved by both Greenbelt and county voters, while Question 3 was rejected. Question 1 provides that persons holding state jobs may also serve in the military reserves or state militia. Question 2 provides that Clerks of the Circuit Court across the state will be governed by rules adopted by the Maryland Court of Appeals and their budget will be prepared by its Chief Judge.

The third question, which failed, called for a convention to rewrite the state constitution and is required to appear on the ballot every 20 years.

(Little information was available Wednesday on the statewide results of these three questions. The Baltimore Sun reported that Question 3 was rejected across the state.)

County Questions

All of the county questions approved by the voters, were both in Greenbelt and across the county. As a result, a special election would be held to fill a vacancy on the county council that occurred up to 90 days before a general election.

Questions B through F will permit the county to borrow through bonds up to a specific amount for specific public works projects:

-$47.9 million for transportation facilities including improvements to Kenilworth from Ivy Lane to Cherrywood

-$12.9 million for county libraries.

-$32.3 million for public safety facilities. -$17.5 million for other county-owned buildings.

As a longtime resident of

Greenbelt and an avid recycler,

I have been dutifully depositing to learn about the expansion of the recycling center and looked forward to increasing my contribution toward a cleaner envi-

hold refuse, including plastic bottles and all types of metal cans. However, I was utterly appalled at the condition of the recycling center on Sunday, October 28, only one week after its opening. While huge bins have been provided for recyclable materials, they were totally ignored and bags of refuse were strewn on the stairs and platpreventing access to the bins.

Regrets Incident

City ordinance provides that: "Any city employee may take part in a political movement or actively support candidates for office as an individual citizen"; but that: "No employee shall directly or indirectly use or seek to use his official position, authority or influence to control or modify the political action of any other person. . . ."

In the recent election, a campaign ad was published and a campaign flyer was distributed bearing the endorsement of a candidate by an appointed offic-ial of this city. This campaign material included the official title of the employee.

The employee was not aware of the use of his office in that manner, and the employee and City became aware of the campaign material too late to prevent its publication and distribution. The employee did err, however, in failing to make known to the candidate the restrictions imposed as to the involvement of his office in a political campaign.

I regret that this incident occurred and have taken appropriate action to discourage its re-

Beautiful

While we are all climbing over the construction debris in the Center and trying to find new pathways to the shops, I have a suggestion. Walk a bit farther to the far side of the City Building, the side facing Center School. There you will see a small, beautiful, new garden designed by Bill Phelan, the city landscape gardener.

If this is an example of things to come, we can all look forward to a beautiful, revised Centerway.

Reunion Held by Classes Of Greenbelt High School

by Marilyn Maryn Spiegel

Although Greenbelt High School no longer exists, this fall graduates of two Greenbelt High School classes met for an exciting trip down memory lane. Combining forces, the classes of 1945 and 1946 held a three day weekend reunion, September 22-24, at the Greenbelt Holiday Inn and Martin's Crosswinds. A total of 80 people, classmates and spouses, greeted old friends, exchanged favorite stories, and viewed class photographs and memorabilia.

Some had memories that went members. A total of 20 graduback to the beginning of Green-Among these were friends Lois DeJager, Paul Strickler, James Carneal and Marilyn Maryn who remembered being in Mrs. Parker's 4th grade class in Greenbelt Elementary School when it opened in 1937. remembered working together to dig and plant a rock garden near the present Greenbelt library and the underpass to preserve the soil and beautify the community. Now they met a-gain at the reunion.

The Sunday evening program, led by Ted Fox (president, class of 1946) and Marilyn Maryn Spiegel, included a brief class meeting, an exchange of anecdotes, a memory quiz, and a questionable rendition of the school Alma Mater, written by Harold Kidder and led by Joyce Bates Magnum. That program was televised by Greenbelt Cable, Channel B-10,

Class members came from Kansas, Illinois, Florida and Vermont. Most of the graduates currently live in the greater Washington, D.C. metropolitan area, with a total of eight graduates still living in the city of Greenbelt. The graduates looked exceptionally well for a group of seniors who are about to trade their baseball cards for Medicare cards. Most of the graduates are active retirees involved in community work, hob-bies, traveling, and enjoying grandchildren. About a dozen of the retirees are currently living in Florida. (The suggestion was made that the next reunion be held in Florida.) Several of the graduates are returning to college to take courses and to participate in the elderhostel programs,

In recalling "the most influential person" during their high school days, many of the graduates listed principals Barnhart and John Speicher. Several teachers were listed, par-ticularly English teacher Violet Younger Cook and athletic di-retor, Ben Goldfaden.

Present Careers

Did the graduates follow their high school ambition? Well, a few did . . few did . . . and then some. Artist Tim Evans is currently exhibiting a collection of contemporary American crafts in the Smithsonian Museum. Ruth Morgan Raffaeli is working as a community education and prevention specialist for Alcohol-ism Services of Cleveland, and Frieda Brown is a professor of English Literature, LeGrand Benefiel is an architect, and Dr. Clayton McCarl continues dental practice in Greenbelt. Dr. Philip Dykstra is currently with the Thiokol Corporation in Utah, working as a solid-rocket engineer, and Dr. George Newman is a consultant in engineering. Several of the graduates have had careers in business - Jack Robertson, Leonard LeMire, and Lois DeJager Chesser, while others have become nurses, teachers, and writers. James Johnson, class of 1946, is a Five Star General.

Sadly, both classes have lost

Recycling Booklets Available

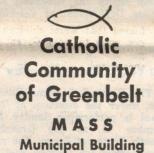

Two free booklets are available to Maryland residents interested in joining statewide recycling efforts aimed at reduc-ing the amount of solid waste sent to landfills.

The booklets outline two methods for recycling leaves and grass clippings developed by Dr. Bill Knoop, a national yard ref-use expert from Texas A&M University. According to Knoop, yard refuse constitutes as much as 50 percent of household waste sent to landfills during the growing season.

Knoop recommends two methods for homeowners to recycle leaves and grass clippings: backyard composting and not bagging grass clippings.

Backyard composting uses nature's decay cycle to break down leaves and grass clippings into usable mulch. Homeowners create a compost pile by alternat-ing layers of grass clippings, leaves and plant matter. The second method, known as Don't Bag It, involves shredding grass clippings and leaves with a mulching lawn mower and then leaving them on the lawn. This can reduce fertilizer applications by 25 percent and mowing time by 35 percent.

For more information, Maryland residents can order the following booklets — "Don't Curb It, Compost It;" and "Don't Bag It, Recycle It." Both are available free of charge by sending a self-eddressed stamped business envelope (#10) to: Yard Refuse Recycling Booklets, The Toro News Center, 8500 Normandale Lake Blvd., #1200, Minneapolis, MN 55437.

School Board Deems Illegal PTA's Salary Fund Raising

by Carol Lynch

The Greenbelt Center School PTA efforts to fund three new teachers was deemed illegal by Board of Education Attorney Paul M. Nussbaum and was voted down in Sep-

PTA member Lori Snyder, who saw the success the city of New Carrollton had in raising $60,000 from private sources to build a playground. "We couldn't get money from the council or the school board," said Snyder. "We just wanted to see something done for this year - shortterm." The Center School teachers had requested class sizes of 25 or under. The average class this year is 33.

The Greenbelt community has contributed about $1,000 thus far. Snyder said she felt the amount would have been higher but donors were scared away by negative articles written in the P. G. Journal which emphasized from the beginning that the school board would not allow this to happen. "It was a negative campaign from the start," said Snyder. Snyder says she learned later that several schools in Oakland, California, have funded additional teaching positions through this means. In California school money has been cut by Proposition 13. TRIM is the program here that put a limitation on property taxes several years ago, and, therefore, is restricting county funding.

Snyder said Nussbaum's concern was that of integration. He feared that white children would not want to leave Greenbelt and go to the magnet and other specialized schools in various communities where they are providing some racial balance if they can get the smaller classroom size here. "He is not looking at education but at in-tegration," said Snyder. "He re-ferred to our efforts as elitism."

Suzanne Plogman, Board of Education representative Greenbelt, said that although the PTA didn't raise the amount of money they wanted, they did an admirable job. She said that although she put the resolution before the board in July it wasn't voted on until September. "When the attorney gave his six-page opinion that it was illegal, there was no way the board could support the resolution, and they voted it down," Plogman said.

Plogman went on to say that PTA's can raise money to supplement school programs and buy equipment like copying machines, but at this point they can't raise money to hire personnel.

Center School PTA President Robert Zugby sent a letter to the community last summer requesting donations for additional teachers and guidance servic-

Health Agency Suggests Elderly Pneumonia Shots

The Maryland State Health orges County Health Department are urging people 65 years of age and older to be sure they have received their pneumonia shot. It may be given at the same time as the flu shot.

The shot, which lasts for at least five years, protects against a type of pneumonia that causes about 40,000 deaths a year in the United States. Senior citizens should contact their physician or local health department for more information about this vaccine,

The effort which began this es because of Center School's summer was the brainchild of need for a lower student to teacher ratio. Many Greenbelt students live in what are considered high-risk situations; i.e., two-thirds of the students are from single parent homes and 40 percent qualify for free or reduced price lunches.

> "The status now is that we cannot legally do it," said Zug-While funds are still coming in, the PTA is asking donors if the money can be used for other purposes.

> "We want to undertake a voter education drive to inform the public that something needs to be done as far as school funding is concerned. The public doesn't realize that the classrooms are too crowded for real learning to take place," said

ELECTIONS

(Contniued from page one) and election judges reported that a number of voters had sought information on Tuesday on how to write in a vote. The election board will count the write-in votes on Saturday. Until then there is no information available.

Timer told the News Review that a voter called her Monday evening to ask whether she would accept the school board seat if a write-in campaign in her name succeeded. Timer agreed. "I was surprised, laughed, and said 'Thank you for your support,'" Timer told the News Review.

Model Mugging Explored Nov. 16

On November 16, Rene Bane will explore the topic of Model Mugging—a full force defense course for women. Alarming figures show that one out of every three women will be sexually assaulted in their lifetime. The Model Mugging course, taught by a female instructor and male attackers wearing over 40 lbs. of armor, teaches defensive moves. Women learn to overcome the conditioning that they are weak and need to be submissive to men. Since rapists look for helpless victims, this course teaches women to be strong and alert. In California, female police officers are sent to Model Mug-ging as part of their training.

Model Mugging is the only course of its kind that follows its graduates, Out of 42 women who took the class and who were attacked, 29 knocked their attackers out. 11 used less than knockout force and were able to flee and 2 who were attacked with weapons chose not to fight.

Bane is currently employed with Discovery Toys and is the editor of the Women's Center and Referral Service of Prince Georges County Newsletter.

The program is part of "Explorations Unlimited" which is held every Friday from 1 to 3 p.m. in the Youth Center. All are welcome to attend. Call 474-6878 for more information.

Public Hearings Held On Local Legislation

The Prince Georges County elegation to the Maryland delegation House of Delegates has set the following dates for the public hearings on local legislation: November 27 - 7 p.m. for the bi-county committee; December 3 - 7 pm. for the law enforcement committee; December 5, 7 p.m. for the county affairs committee. Police Blotter

Based on Information Released by the Greenbelt Police Department

During a domestic argument in the 8000 block of Mandan Rd. on Oct. 27, a woman was struck by a vehicle. A male resident was later arrested for attempted murder and held on $50,000 bond.

Two residents reported being robbed at gunpoint, specifically a semi-automatic handgun, in the 6100 block of Springhill Terr, on Oct. 29 around 9:15 p.m. One man approached them and demanded their wallets while three other men stood by. Then all four men fled toward Springhill Dr, Two of the men are described as: (1) black, 16-20 years old, 5'8", 160 lbs., short black hair, wearing a red jacket; and (2) black, 16-20 years old, 6'0", 170 lbs., black hair, wearing a black or gray trench coat. The other two are black men of medium build.

Another resident reported being robbed on Oct. 27 around 2 a.m. in the 100 block of Centerway. As he got out of his vehicle, four men approached him, demanded his money, and then struck him with a mini-baseball bat. The man then struggled back into his vehicle and got away. Two of the men are described as: (1) black, 19-20 years old, 5'10", 170 bs., black phili hair cut, mustache, wearing a white sweat suit; (2) black, 30 years old, 6'3", 160 lbs., black phili hair cut, wearing a blue and red striped shirt, blue jeans and black shoes.

A juvenile reported that around 9:50 p.m. on Oct. 27 a gold Nissan and a red or brown Toyota drove up to him in the parking lot of Beltway Plaza, and a man got out of one of them and battered him. The man is described as black, in his twenties, 5'10", black hair, skinny, wearing a heavy green jacket and a baseball cap on backwards.

After stopping a vehicle for a traffic violation in the 7800 block of Hanover Pkwy. on Oct. 30, Officer Barry Byers noticed a handgun on the floorboard of the vehicle and later found another one under the passenger seat. Both guns were .22 caliber: one one was a semi-automatic. Three people were arrested and charged with two counts of transportation of a handgun: (1) a 15-yearold resident, who was released to Juvenile Services; (2) a 16-yearold nonresident male, who was charged as an adult, and held on $2,500 bond pending trial; (2) a 17-year-old nonresident, who was charged as an adult and held on $1,000 bond pending trial.

On Oct. 29, Pfc. Carl Schinner arrested three 15-year-old residents for trespassing in the 7700 block of Hanover Pkwy.

On Oct. 26 a breaking and entering was attempted in the 9100 Court of Springhill Ct. Someone knocked at a resident's door; when she answered, no one was there, but someone was trying to open a ground floor window. The suspect, a black male teenager, 5'5", 140 lbs., wearing a red jacket with a blue stripe, acid-washed jeans, and tennis shoes, fled once he noticed the resident.

On Oct. 29, a breaking and entering was reported in the 9100 block of Edmonston Rd.; assorted change, jewelry, and a camera were taken; there were no signs of forced entry. On Oct. 30 a resident reported a breaking and entering in the 9100 block of Springhill Lane: stereo equipment was taken; entry was gained through the sliding glass door.

A laser printer was stolen from an office suite in the 7500 block of Greenway Center Dr. on Oct. 24. Cash was stolen from an unattended purse in an office suite in the 7600 block of Ora Glen Dr. on Oct. 25.

Geller Gets 5 Gold Medals In State Senior Olympics

Harvey Geller, a long time resident of Greenbelt and a senior athlete, won five gold medals in the Maryland Senior Olympics held October 4 to 6 at Towson State University in Baltimore. Geller finished second overall in the 1500 meter race walk, but was first in the 65 to 69 age group. His time of 8 minutes 40 seconds was only 1 second behind the overall winner in a race that included all age groups from 55 years and over.

This year the bicycle races were changed from a group race to time trials due to a bad accident that occurred in last year's race. In time trials each contestant races against the clock, and places are determined by the lowest times. This type of race is more difficult, since the contestants start 30 seconds apart and drafting is not allowed. This means that contestants do not know how their opponents are doing. Therefore one has to go as fast as possible, not the usual strategy associated with bicycle races.

Geller won the one mile, the 5 kilometer, and the 10 kilometer races and was tied for first in the 20 kilometer in the 65 to 69 year age group. A tie in a 20 kilometer time trial race is very rare.

Nationals

By getting medals in these five events, Geller is qualified to compete in these events in the National Senior Olympics to be held starting June 28, 1991 in Syracuse, NY. In those games Geller will be defending his title in the 5 kilometer bicycle race which he won in 1989 in St. Louis, as well as trying to improve on the two bronzes and one silver medal he won in the other bicycle races. Geller is also qualified to compete in the triathalon in the National Senior Olympics, having won the 60 and over class in both the White Oak and the Greenbelt triathalons this past spring.

In the 10 years that Geller has been competing in the Maryland Senior Olympics, he has won nine of the walking races and all of the bicycle races except one in which he has competed, during the first five years in the 60 to 64 age group and for the last five in the 65 to 69 age group. He holds the records for race walking and all the bicycling events in both the 60 to 64 age group and the 65 to 69 age group. In these

10 years he has also won medals in swimming, half mile and mile run, standing broad jump, and shot putting. In the National Senior Olympics he will be competing for the last time in the 60 to 69 age class.

Group Seeks Overseas High School Alumni

Joan Dickson of Greenbelt recently returned from a special weekend workshop/seminar/exhibition in San Antonio concerning overseas alumni affairs, Dickson had attended the Heidelberg American High School in Heidelberg, Germany.

The workshop was sponsored by Overseas Brats, Inc., a non-profit association of Americans who went to high school overseas. This convention attracted 155 people representing 45 overseas high schools. Participants learned how to organize their respective alumni groups, plan reunions and locate fellow classmates. It also provided them with the opportunity to network and share their heritage as Americans overseas.

Overseas Brats, Inc. is looking for other people who attended overseas high schools. Among free services offered by the organization is information about individual high school alumni groups. Readers should write when and where they attended high school overseas and what year they graduated. This information should be mailed with a self-addressed envelope to: Overseas Brats, Inc., P.O. Box 29805, San Antonio, TX 78229. Expect a reply within four weeks.

Other community members involved with Overseas Brats, Inc. include Virginia Hill Moryadas, who was in the class of 1955 at Heidelberg High School, and Mrs. Herbert Jones, mother of Kay Kidwell Hoech, Heidelberg High School class of '58.

Tips for Transit Riders

Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Assocciation (WMA-TA) issued tips for riding Metrobus and Metrorail in stormy weather:

· Plan ahead. People should find out what bus routes serve their neighborhoods, and if they are designated snow emergency routes. These routes are designated with a snowflake symbol on the Metrobus stop sign. WM-ATA's transit information operators are on duty seven days a week from 6 am. to 11:30 p.m. at (202) 637-7000. They can provide bus timetables and routing and scheduing information and can mail people timetables to keep at home and work in case of emergencies. By planning ahead and listening for travel bulletins people will know what transportation alternatives are available.

• When it has snowed overnight, listen for the early morning travel bulletins on the local TV or radio station. WMATA keeps news departments informed when bus and rail service is affected by the weather.

• Anyone who lives or works near a Metrorail station should buy a few high value farecards to use in emergencies and avoid waiting in line at the farecard machines. This winter during snow emergencies, WMATA employees will sell $5 pre-coded farecards at heavily used stations.

• Start out early in the morning. Traffic worsens as the rush-hour progresses. If it snows during the day, stay until regular evening rush-hour bus and rail service begins. WMATA generally cannot mobilize buses for mid-day rush hour service.

Remember that bus operators are on the job very early in a
